The INDEX Group is Growing

The INDEX Group in Esslingen, Germany, is extending its business with “Additive Manufacturing Solutions”

On March 18, 2021, INDEX acquired a majority interest in TRUMPF’s One Click Metal GmbH. This participation provides One Click Metal with additional know-how and capital to continue its growth trajectory in the very promising entry-level segment for 3D printers. TRUMPF remains involved as an active and strategic partner and will support the 5 company’s future development in collaboration with INDEX.

With a workforce of about 20 employees, One Click Metal develops comprehensive solutions in the field of metal 3D printing for small and medium-sized components. From programming to printing, to unpacking and the powder cycle, all process steps are geared 10 towards the simplest and most convenient use. TRUMPF employees founded the startup in April 2019 within the scope of the “TRUMPF Internehmertum” initiative and established its headquarters in Tamm, near Ludwigsburg.

One Click Metal’s customers include businesses from the mechanical engineering, tool 15 manufacturing, and automotive industries, as well as training centers. They use the systems not only for product development and prototyping, but also for industrial production of individual parts and small production runs.
